Solve Your People Problems

Dr. Margarita Gurri, CSP, is a Misbehavior Expert who solves people problems. She works with leaders and teams who want to leverage the power of anxiety, conflict, and missteps to increase productivity and profit. She's a global speaker, seasoned consulting clinical psychologist, and sassy grandmother with two black belts. Leaders and teams in business, healthcare, government, and military organizations rely on her wit and wisdom. Affectionately known as Dr. Red Shoe, she offers executive advising, keynotes, MCing, meeting facilitation, and training. A Certified Speaking Professional and Certified Virtual Presenter, she is sought-after for her discretion and content-rich, fun approach to change.

Credentials. Dr. Gurri is a Certified Virtual Presenter, licensed psychologist, Community Emergency Response Team members, and a Certified Speaking Professional™, a designation earned by seventeen percent of speakers globally.

Why the Red Shoes? When the Gurri family left Cuba for the USA, mother Beba wore impractical red shoes as a sign of strength. For four-year-old Margarita, those red shoes magically transformed the power of conflict with courage, humor, and grace.

Author of True North for Military Moms, True North for Military Couples, Color Me Difficult, The Ethical Speaker, Trilogy of Anger, La Trilogia de la Ira, Anglican Prayer Beads, and co-author of The Happiness Recipe.

Broadcasts and Podcasts include Solve Your People Problems—Ask Dr. Red Shoe, Touch Base Tuesdays for military families, and Step Up! for business leaders.
